1st ANNUAL SUFFIELD ACADEMY TOUR/SHOWCASE PHOTO RELEASE

SUFFIELD, Conn. – Suffield Academy hosts its first annual tour of the campus and showcase for 360 Academic Sports Academy student-athletes. A showcase at Suffield Academy provides 360 student-athletes and parents with the opportunity to display their skills in a showcase in front of 15 top boarding schools, including Phillips Academy, Salisbury School and Rabun Gap-Nacoochee School. Led by Suffield Academy coach, Bryan Brissette, and director of admissions, Sean Atkins, this marks the second year that Suffield Academy has hosted a tour and showcase for 360 ASA student-athletes, as 360 continues their boarding school showcase program.

*360 Academic Sports Academy is a 501 (c)(3) nonprofit organization that provides a combination of academic support and sports training to student-athletes in the New York City area to guide them toward success in high school, college, and beyond. ## 360 ACADEMIC SPORTS ACADEMY STUDENT-ATHLETE UPDATE

NEW YORK — 360 Academic Sports Academy athlete, Noel Rivera, announced his commitment to Division 1, Marist College. Rivera was a member of the inaugural class of student-athletes and has taken full advantage of the opportunities provided to him. He attended Suffield Academy through 360’s boarding school showcase program and excelled academically and athletically. He’s graduating with honors and a 3.8 GPA, while being recognized as a top player in boarding school baseball programs in the Northeast. The 360 family is confident that Rivera is going to achieve amazing things, both on the field and beyond the game of baseball. 360 is extremely proud to have a member of its family attend a top Division 1 school.
